May 26 will be Senior Day for class of '49

May 26 is the day 209 graduating seniors will don caps and gowns and help plant their class tree on the OU lawn.

A class gift of $75 to start a Student Union fund and the tapping ceremony for the newly organized Arrowhead society, men's honorary leadership organization, will highlight the Senior Class Day outside on the front steps. The program is open to all students and the faculty.

The 10 o'clock ceremonies will include the presentation of the Alpha Lambda Delt book award to the girl with the highest average and the Phi Eta Sigma award to the man with the high average. The senior in business administration with the highest average will receive the Delta Sigma Pi certificate.

Several leadership certificates for scholarship and activities will be announced. The program will include a noon luncheon.

A history of the senior class by Morris Borders, and the introduction of the class' sponsors, R. Wayne Wilson, assistant professor of business administration, and Roderic B. Crane, professor of economics, will also be part of the ceremony, Bryon Miller, class president, said.

Class of '13 grad to get honorary L.L.D. degree

Rear Admiral Stanton W. Salisbury, a graduate of the University of Omaha with the first class, in 1913, will be awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree at the commencement exercises on June 6.

Admiral Salisbury was born in Decatur, Nebraska, and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Auburn, New York, Theological Seminary in 1916, after graduating from Omaha U.

After acting as Associate Pastor of Trinity Center, San Francisco, from 1919, to 1921, Admiral Salisbury became a chaplain in the United States Navy. He has served as a chaplain at sea and ashore since 1921 and was made a rear admiral at the close of World War II. Admiral Salisbury is second in command of the Navy's Chaplains' Division.

While at Omaha U., Salisbury was one of the charter members of Phi Sigma Phi fraternity in 1910. He lettered as center on both the football and basketball teams, was on the debate team, and had the lead in a number of student plays.

Admiral Salisbury will be honored by the Alumni Association at the Achievement Day-Reunion Day dinner the evening of June 6. Admiral Salisbury will deliver the main speech at the dinner.

One to go

June 2 is the last day of school, but May 24—next Tuesday—is the end of the line as far as Gateway staffers are concerned. That's the day of the last issue of The Gateway for the '48-'49 school year.

OU gets nationwide publicity from Forum

Omaha University is the subject of an article appearing in a national publication distributed this week. The magazine is Forum, official publication of Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic fraternity for freshmen.

A history of the university and of the organization and installation of the fraternity's local chapter make up the story.

Two pictures—one of the installation banquet and one of the "main building, University of Omaha"—are included.

Ma-ie Day photogs may submit picture

APO's prize-winning Ma-ie Day float on the blood bank may gain nationwide fame.

Carl Peterson, representative of the Regional Red Cross Center, is planning to submit a picture and article about the float to the Red Cross Courier, the national magazine.

Anyone who took a picture of the float is asked to bring a copy of it to The Gateway office. The best picture will be sent to Washington, D. C., headquarters of the Courier.

University players to go national; installation scheduled for Sunday

Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, will be activated on the campus Sunday.

The installation ceremony for Lambda Chi chapter of the organization will be held at the home of Mrs. Frances Key, faculty sponsor at 4 p. m. Dean Swanson who became a member at Baker University at Baldwin Ks. will assist in the installation.

Thirteen undergraduates and one alumna have qualified to become members of the fraternity. Membership in Alpha Psi Omega is open to students on the basis of a point system for extra curricular dramatic activities.

Players continue

The thirteen who are eligible are: Jack Feierman, Joanne Kynette, Phyllis Earp, Marjorie Mahony, Douglas White, Janice Gragson, Jean Durney, Harry Langdon, Harold Marer, Lois Brady, Charles Farnham, Dave Elmore and Robert Duckworth. The one alumna is Geraldine Whitted, graduate student.

According to Mrs. Key, the purpose of the organization is to foster interest in dramatics and to honor those who have done outstanding work in the field.

She emphasized that this does not mean the death of the local University Players' organization. It will continue on the same basis as before.

Don't give up yet; exams ere vacation

Hey students, not yet! Summer vacation may be just around the corner, but the corner won't be turned until June 2.

That's the final day of exams which begin next Friday for most students. Classes will be held next week through Thursday, according to Miss Alice Smith, registrar. Examinations in English 212 will be given on Thursday, but other classes will be in session that day.

Lackadaisical eaters leave lawn littered

Jack Adwers, building and grounds superintendent, wants co-operation from all OU students who drape themselves about the campus to eat. He doesn't mind if they eat outside—he just wishes that they would clean up their trash instead of leaving it littered about.

Says Adwers: "The students are throwing things about worse than they ever have before, especially in the last five weeks since the weather has been nice."

He pointed out that there are trash cans at the southwest corner of the main building and the southeast corner of the Pow Wow Inn.

Pep rally on tap at 12:30 p.m. today

Seniors to meet

The seniors will have a final class meeting Monday. All seniors are asked to meet at noon in the auditorium.

Blood Bank changes date, here May 27

Your date with the Blood Bank is May 27.

The time has been moved ahead two days because the Quonset Hut will be occupied on May 25.

The Blood Bank equipment will be in the hut from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. Five donors can be taken every 15 minutes.

Student Health Nurse Shirley Rice announced Wednesday that several students already have made appointments. "We're hoping for a lot more, though," she added.

Need 125 donors

Carl Peterson, representative from the Red Cross Regional Blood Bank, said that approximately 125 donors are needed. He stated that the donors will feel no pain and that the fluid amount given will be replaced within a few hours.

Each donor will receive a free snack as well as a card bearing all the necessary information in case he should ever need an emergency transfusion.

Nearly 400 sign in spring registration

About half of the present students have registered for the fall term, according to Alice C. Smith, registrar. Approximately 400 students have registered for summer school.

Although fall registration is over for now, it will be resumed Sept. 15 for one day. Students may register anytime for summer school.

Time's a-wasting on '50 Tomahawk posts

Only a few minutes remain for you to file your application for a position on the 1950 Tomahawk.

Any student desiring an editorial post on next year's yearbook must have his application into the journalism office, 810C by noon today.

Rush.

Intersession offers courses for teachers

Two intersession courses, Teaching of the Language Arts and Health Education Workshop, will be offered by OU starting May 23 and ending June 10.

The short courses are planned for county and rural elementary school teachers and will carry three credits.

Classes will meet five days per week from 9 a. m. to noon. Registration for the courses will end Monday.

Accounting students asked to CPA meet

Advanced accounting students have been invited to participate in a meeting of professional accountants, according to a letter received by George Rayburn, assistant professor of business administration.

It is the next meeting of the Nebraska Society of Certified Public Accountants to be held at the Fontenelle Hotel Monday.

Virgil S. Tilly of Tulsa, will read a paper on inventory valuation.

Event to kindle fire for Indian-Bluejay ball tilt

The last pep rally of the year is scheduled for 12:30 today on the east bank of the football field. In case of rain, it will move indoors to the auditorium.

The rally is being held to introduce the Spring sports and to draw up enthusiasm for the Creighton baseball game to be played Saturday night in the new Municipal Stadium.

Head Cheerleader Bill Fear pointed out that the baseball team has won six out of eight games this year. One of these victories was over Creighton. Another factor which ought to bring Indian fans out to the game is that students will be admitted free with their athletic booklets.

Members of the baseball team will be introduced by their coach, Virg Yelkin, at the rally. The golf tennis and track teams will also be introduced by their respective coaches—Johnny Campbell, George Pritchard and Lloyd Cardwell.

Noon classes will be dismissed at 12:25.

Play Production class gives comedy Tuesday

"You Can't Take It With You" by Hart and Kaufmann will be presented by the Play Production class Tuesday, May 24, at 8 p. m. in the university auditorium.

Everyone is invited and will be admitted free.

According to Mrs. Frances McChesney Key, speech instructor, staging the play is an "interesting experiment" but she assures everyone "an entertaining evening."

The comedy will serve as a laboratory for the Play Production class, which did the casting.

Douglas White, who had the lead in the University Players' spring play, the Late George Apple, will be production manager for the three act comedy.

An all-player cast

Members of the cast, all from the University Players, are: Penelope, Marguerite Mulready; Essie, Beverly Hanne; Rheba, Marilyn Anderson; Paul, Tom Meyer; Mr. DePinna, Jim Dimartino; Ed, LaVerne Sweigard; Donald, Bob Duckworth and Martin Vanderhof, Peter Francis.

Others are Alice, Jean Banse; Henderson, Claire Carlson; Tony, Dean Swanson; Boris, Douglas White; Gay, Barbara Carleman; Mr. Kirby, Harold Marer; Mrs. Kirby, Bettie Vickery; Olga, Bettie Vickery; The man, Tom Slack.

Back stage: Technicians Bob Duckworth and Douglas White; Stage Manager, Nancy Ferguson; Lights and Sound Effects, Peter Francis, LaVerne Sweigard and Tom Slack; Handling properties are Harold Marer, Claire Carlson, Dean Swanson, Bettie Vickery, Nancy Ferguson, Jean Banse, Tom Meyer, Marilyn Anderson and Marguerite Mulready; Publicity, Barbara Carleman, Bev Harne, and Jim Dimartino; Business Manager, Tom Slack; and the Costumes and Make-up class.

Town, Gown party planned

At the closing meeting of the year Thursday, the Town and Gown Club will offer a garden party. Speaker of the evening will be Mr. Leroy Wilcox. The party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Latenser.

GREASEPAINT
AND NEW WAX

Tuesday is the last chance to see JOHN LOVES MARY at the Community Playhouse. Students can get tickets for a dollar.

THE UNDERCOVER MAN involves T-man Glenn Ford and his efforts to collect taxes from "The Big Fellow," the monster who controls the underworld in one of the nation's biggest cities. This struggle gets him mixed up in all kinds of gangster film situations, and results in somewhat of a thriller.

DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS concerns whaleboat captain Lionel Barrymore's dilemma: should he take along grandson Dean Stockwell, or leave him ashore at school? His first mate Richard Widmark, however, turns out to be qualified enough to tutor the boy and keep the ship moving between whales and icebergs.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME casts Frank Sinatra and Gene Kelly as two lazy infielders who can't help straying off the baseball diamond into the nearest beer hall for some songs and hoofing and such. Even though this picture takes place in 1906, Esther Williams wears a skin tight bathing suit.

ANNA KARENINA, a British film, takes Tolstoy's intricate observations of nineteenth century morality and passion and keeps only a neat little triangle with Vivien Leigh, Ralph Richardson, her older husband, and Kieron Moore, her lover.

Campbell's linksmen
stay undefeated as
Morningside blanked

Omaha University's well-balanced golf team captured its fifth shutout and eleventh straight win Tuesday afternoon as they thumped Morningside, 10-0, over the windy Indian Hills golf course.

Blonde Bill Berner snared four birdies to rack up his best round of the season, a one over par 72. The long driving Berner easily spanked his opponent, Earl Landserg, 3-0.

In the first foursome John Duncan defeated Don Molden, 3-0, and Chester Stefanski beat Dick Morgan, 3-0. Duncan and Stefanski won best ball, 3-0.

Ray Nelson, Berner's partner, defeated Ward Huelvelman, 3-0. The Berner-Nelson best ball combo won, 3-0.

It was the first time in OU history that Morningside has been beaten twice in one season and the first time the Maroons have been shutout in three years.

Thinclads sweep
11 of 15 firsts in
OU cinder finale

OU's track squad wound up the 1949 season Tuesday by walloping Morningside, 92-39, on the Omaha oval.

The Indians swept the pole vault, discus and javelin in posting their third win of the year. They scored first in 11 of the 15 events.

Little Bernie Anderson knocked 10 seconds off the school record in the two mile with a 10:59.5 performance. The old mark of 11:09.9 was set last year by Don Smith.

Anderson also won the mile run. His time of 4:53.6 was his best of the year. The freshman distance man led all the way in both events.

Bob Dow was the only other double winner for OU. He led the way to the tape in both hurdle events.

Bahnsen wins

Don Bahnsen gave Omaha fans a scare by lagging 10 yards back in the half mile, but his customary kick on the final curve gave him the win. It was his sixth victory in as many starts this year.

Other winners for Omaha were Lorelle Alford, 440; Ralph Pettit and Paul Larmon, tie in the pole vault; Charles Anderson, shotput; Ray Beal, discus, and John Adams, javelin. Eugene Heins and Brad Johnson tied with Morningside's Bill Ide in the high jump.

Fieldmen move to track

In an effort to get letters, OU athletes were entering everything Heins needing three-tenths of a point for his monogram, picked up a point in the two mile.

He ran third in a field of three—a lap and a half behind the winner. Larmon came over the pole vault pit to win second in the javelin.

Individual honors went to Jim Daniels of Morningside. He won

Indian netsters drop
Maroons for No. 9

OU's tennis squad racked up their ninth victory of the season Tuesday night when they gained win No. 2 over weak Morningside.

Fred Pisasale was the only Indian to bite the dust in the 6-1 massacre of the hapless Maroons.

Pisasale's loss was sweet revenge to Morningside's Len Foster. His loss to Pisasale in the two teams' first meeting this year was only his fifth in four years of college competition.

Geisler surprises

Reserve Charlie Geisler was again a pleasant surprise for the Indian crew. Geisler came through with his second straight singles victory by thumping his Iowa opponent, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3.

The Omahans have only one match remaining, a second meeting with Creighton scheduled for Tuesday. Summaries:

Foster, Morningside, defeated Pisasale, 9-7, 6-2. Hlad, OU, defeated Brown, 6-2, 6-1. Reed, OU, defeated Reynolds, 6-2, 6-2. Wray, OU, defeated Loh, 6-3, 6-1. Geisler, OU, defeated Wallace, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3. Pisasale-Hlad, OU, defeated Foster-Wallace, 6-3, 6-2. Reed-Davis, OU, defeated Brown-Reynolds, 6-1, 6-1.

Weather bothers softball

The Intramural Softball Tournament ran into rough weather last week and some of the games were postponed to this week. In the games played last week, Central won from Benson by forfeit, Delta Sigs took Thetas by 18-11, Alpha Sig beat Phi Sigs, 7-4, and Tech measured North, 8-0.

the 100, 220, and broad jump.

Other point-makers for OU:

Dick Nelson, third in 880; Cleveland Marshall, second in 100 and 220; Carl Lomatch, second in low hurdles, third in 100; Adams, third in high hurdles; N. C. Fitz, second in broad jump; L. Alford, third in pole vault; Clon Fitz, second in shot; Phil Barber, second Jim Woodhead, third, in discus; Bill Hamlin, third in javelin; Omaha (Hopie Bronson, Roy Carlson, L. Alford, Bahnsen), first in mile relay.

Indians play under lights tomorrow night at 8:15 against Bluejay nine

Fitch, Abboud, big guns of Indian '9'

Donny Fitch's batting spree in the Washburn game last Tuesday night boosted the little shortstop out in front in the batting race with .381.

Also moving up fast in the recent games is Outfielder Freddy Abboud with a .375 clip. Tagging close behind is First Baseman Jack Sueme with .344.

Pitchers Paul Sorenson and George Kostal have averages of .500 and .429 respectively but they have been up only a few times.

Averages, including all games:

	AB	R	Ave.
Paul Sorenson	2	1	.500
George Kostal	7	3	.429
Don Fitch	21	8	.381
Fred Abboud	24	9	.375

Thirty grads will get masters in June

Students expecting to receive Master of Science Degrees in Education will take final comprehensive written examinations Saturday, July 9. This announcement was stressed at the Monday night meeting of the Graduate Committee.

According to E. M. Hosman, director of the School of Adult Education, there will be about 30 grads who will receive master degrees this June.

Omaha U's second venture into night baseball takes place tomorrow evening in Municipal Stadium at 8:15. Students will be admitted with student athletic ticket No. 7 while the general admission price will be $.50.

Tomorrow's opponent under the arcs is the crosstown rival, Creighton. The first meeting of the two nines this season ended in a 16-3 stampede of the Hilltoppers so they are definitely the underdogs in the contest tomorrow.

Although the Jays have been off beaten this season, they hold a win over Morningside and are not to be too lightly regarded. Morningside is one of the two teams that has beaten the Indians this year.

Trophy at stake

At stake is the Boys Town Greater Omaha Round Table Trophy awarded each year to the winner of the OU-CU series. Up to this year, the Bluejays have kept possession of that trophy, but the tide seems to be running the other way. OU has trounced the Jays in golf, tennis and baseball this season.

Red and Black rooters can be sure that Baseball Mentor Virg Yelkin and his proteges are out to drive a few more nails in the coffin of Creighton supremacy over OU in sports.

Best ball club

Although the Indians have started slowly this season, they have developed into the best ball club the school has ever had. Earlier losses to Morningside and Washburn have been avenged in return games. Going into tomorrow's game, the Indian ledger reads six won and two lost.

Yelkin plans to use the same lineup that conquered Washburn last Tuesday night. Bud Bridenbaugh is his choice for the mound, Duane Lippold will do the catching.

On first will be Jack Sueme, Bob Redden on second, Don Fitch at shortstop and Walt Matejka at third. Outfielders will be Bill Spellman, Freddy Abboud and Jerry Easterhouse.

Bridenbaugh hero as Ichabods fall

Rodger (Bud) Bridenbaugh's clutch pitching made the first night college baseball game in the history of Omaha a success from the Omaha U. standpoint.

He had the goods when the chips were down in the second, fifth, sixth, eighth and ninth innings as the Indians turned back Washburn, 2-1, under the Municipal Stadium mazdas. About 350 attended despite adverse weather conditions.

OU scores in rain

Omaha scored twice during a fourth-inning rain. Jack Seume walked, advanced to third on Donny Fitch's single, Fitch taking second on the outfield throw to third. Bugs Redden drilled a base hit to right to score both runners.

Omaha got a man on base in only four other innings, and Earl Hays, the visiting twirler, was able to stem the tide on these occasions.

6th inning crisis

The sixth almost proved Bridenbaugh's downfall. He walked the first two batters, fanned the clean-up hitter, and then forced in the lone Washburn run with two more walks. But he fanned the next two hitters to get out of the jam.

Bud had men on second and third when he got the last out in the eighth. Bridenbaugh got the last two outs of the game with the tying run perched on third and the leading run on second.

Bridenbaugh whiffs 12

Bridenbaugh finished with 12 strikeouts and seven walks. His mound foe had two less strikeouts and only two walks. Donny Fitch played a sparkling game at shortstop for Omaha, handling nine chances faultlessly on a soggy infield and contributing two of the four Indians hits.

Announcement of the Rose of Delta Sig will highlight the national business fraternity's banquet and dance Saturday evening at the Capitol Hotel at 6:30.

Candidates for the title are Mary Irene Squire and Mary McBride, Phi Delta's and Pat Perry, Chi O.

The three girls, who were selected from 15 entrants, will be guests of the fraternity, as will fellow Delta Sig's from Creighton and the University of Nebraska. All three candidates will be presented gifts.

Alpha Sigs honor alums at banquet

Alpha Sig's celebrated Founders Day at their annual banquet Monday evening at the Rome Hotel. Alumni members were honored guests.

Honorary memberships were given to Dr. L. O. Taylor and John W. Kurtz, fraternity sponsors. The pledge membership cup for outstanding scholastic ability was awarded to Frank Parks.

Fraternity founder, Nelson C. Hartford was the guest speaker. Mr. Hartford was president of the Alpha Sigs during 1920 and held the sixth membership card in the fraternity.

Plans for a picnic to be held May 24 were also made following the election of officers for next year. Pewee Schultze was named president; Jerry Lefler, vice president; Frank Parks, secretary; and Jim Boarland, treasurer. John "Whitey" Jones was elected to the interfraternity council.

Kappa Mu Lambda has tea, program

A musical interlude was the Kappa Mu Lambda annual tea for high school seniors active in music, held Thursday afternoon in the faculty clubroom.

The program included piano solos by Jacqueline Geilus and Hopie Bronson. Keith Eck and Bill Fitzsimmons played a violin duet. Records provided background music for the tea.

V. J. Kennedy, sponsor of the music fraternity, and Martin W. Bush, head of the Department of Music, spoke briefly. Guests were taken on a tour of the department's music facilities.

Nancy Will earns WAA top award

WAA's top award for sports participation this year was given to Nancy Will at the group's banquet meeting Tuesday.

The O letter presentation took place at the Hilltop House.

Other awards were received by Shirley Alberti, Barbara Betten, Jean Bressler, Catherine Carre, Sarah Garro, Virginia Layher, Marilyn Mellam, Betty Moy Roberta Muir, Joan Nelson, Beverly Swahn and Shirley Welniak. Presentations were made by Roberta Muir, former intramural head.

Officers were also installed at the meeting. Virginia Layher is the new president. Other officers are Joan Nelson, vice president; Shirley Welniak, secretary; Joan Olsen, treasurer; and Nancy Will, intramural head.

Jean Bressler, retiring president, presided at the installation ceremonies. She was assisted by Barbara Betten on the banquet committee.

Engagements

Hazard-Fyffe

Laura Hazard and William J. Fyffe have announced their plans for an autumn wedding.

Miss Hazard attended the university and is a member of Kappa Psi Delta. Fyffe is a freshman at OU.

Gillespie-Christensen

July 29 is the wedding day of Shirley L. Gillespie and Lawrence M. Christensen.

Mr. Christensen will be graduated in June from the university.

Reeves-Thompson

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Joan Reeves to Donald M. Thompson.

Mr. Thompson is attending the university and is a member of Alpha Sigma Lambda.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mann-Nelson
